The Paris Olympics are about to begin, and athletes are getting ready to compete and give us an unforgettable sports spectacle. In international competitions, what people are more concerned about is the medal progress. Now, by simply clicking on the logo above the search bar on the Xunlei browser or typing "Fun Olympics" into the search bar, you can directly access the activity page and receive real-time updates on the Olympic games. Additionally, you can also play online hurdles and basketball games to showcase your skills and have a chance to win prizes!

The event is divided into three parts. The first part, "Real-time Olympics," includes Olympic medal standings, schedule, and live broadcasts. The second part, "Games That Never Stop," offers electronic practice and games like "Speed Hurdles" and "Heat Basketball" to earn high scores and win prizes for the top ten scorers. The third part, "Olympic Prize Pool," allows participants to enter a drawing for a chance to win prizes such as Tencent Video membership, Olympic merchandise, and browser membership.
